FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

MARKET WAS UNSETTLED

No Less Than a Half Dozen Advances and Declines Were Recorded.

New York, Jan. 4 .- Trading in stocks was characterized by a succession of confusing reversals, the list record-ing no less than half a dozen advances and declines. Lower quotations preshowing a preponderance of losses, for he most part nominal. Unsettlement started with the issuance of the president's message dealing with federal control of the railroads. Although his recommendations on this important question were in line with popular expectations, rails immediately declined one to three nts, wiping out most gains in the
